> Proceedings and Sentence In the trial of Kaankai and Kaapuni, connicted of murder, at Hilo, November 6th, 1874.

The prisoners having been called in for sentence,

Justice Harris addressed them as follows : Kanukal and Kanpuni-You have been accused of the murder of Kabikikala, a woman, and Kanehunamoka, and a lary of your countrymen have found you guilty. If either of you have anything to say why the sentence of the law should not be pronounce upon you, you now may have the opportunity. Kasukai replied :- I did not commit the murder, but Kepio did. I saw him coming down from where Kanehunamoku and Kahikikala lived, and he told me that he had killed them, and he gave Heka, my father-my own father, $16; and he (Heka) has falsely said that I gave him the $10. Keplo told me that he had killed another person, and that when the matter had blown over he would divide the money with me. (By the Court-What was the name of the person whom he said that he had killed?)

He did not mention any name, but he was always talking of committing such crimes as this and rob-Kuapuni sald-I wish to tell the Court where I was all day of the 28th of July last. Prisoner proceeded to give an account of himself, saying that he was with the other two, Kibi and Kanukai; that he had occupied himself with taking care of the cattle until about 2 o'clock, when they all drank of fer, mented potato mash, and proceeded to account for his afternoon. I never saw the deceased man and woman during that day, and the confession which I made was concected in the prison at the instance of Kawi and Kepio, for the purpose of sheltering Kepio, and falsely charging Kasukai, by which means thought Kihi and myself would get free. We were allowed after our first examination to come ogether, and when we had arranged the story and told it to the fallor, he said we had better tell it to some foreigner, and so we told it to Mr. Rufus Lyman when he came. The Count to Kihi-You hear what these men taken as I have said. give it now, your own father, the father that begat you and brought you up, is willing to sell your life for $10. For TEN dollars, as you say, he has charged won with this murder, and sheltered the man, who you say committed it; and she whom you call your

You, Kasukal, a man of mature Improved by thus debasing its real value, or what is years, having a family of your own, have, as the the same thing, inflating its current value. The jury believe, persuaded two young men, boys in result of course followed, that 'pieces of gold coin comparison with yourself, to embark in this nefari- that have been hourded find their way into circuous enterprise. don of a most atrocious murder. structors that may codeavor to enlighten your conscience, to bring you to a sincere repentence for the sins which you have committed during life, and for the crimes for which you are about to suffer.

Kibl, you are no less guilty than Kasukai and Kaapuni, and no less deserving of punishment, and that punishment death. But it frequently happens that to promote the ends of public justice, it is necessary to use the testimony of acemplices. For this purpose the Attorney General has thought it necessary to use your testimony, and It is not usual to proscente those whose testimony is thus used. You have therefore excaped this time and I now entrest you to think what a terrible crime you have committed here if you have accused these your companions talsely, and if they are inno cent of the crime as they say they are that you do now say so. You are free from this trial probably, but still you are not free from this crime, and you will be obliged to walk very circumspectly hereafter to insure your safety. The effect of this crime will always hang over you, and idleness or the least irregularity will soon involve you again. It, therefore, behooves you to look well to your ways, and more especially to keep yourself constantly employed, and in sight of men, that you may avoid the temptations to which it seems you have yielded. When you shall listen to the sentence which I am about to pronounce upon your associates in crime, think how near you have been to death by the hand of a public executioner, and-bear the memory of it constantly through life to your grave. The only excuse that you have been able to give for having assisted in depriving two of your neighbors of their lives, is, that you were asked to do so. Would that asking you to do good things would be as effectual as asking you to do evil. Every day the. Hawalian arranged before Courts offers as an excuse for his offences that this man or this woman entired him, and seems to think that to be a sufficient reason for his wrong doing, and that he even ought to go conputished. This idea is so very prevalent as to be a great discouragement to the friends of this nation The manner of your giving your testimony is very fer from giving me any assurance that you at all appreciate the awful position in which you stand, or are in a proper manner repentant for the crime, in the commission of which you have assisted Kasukai-you have been secused before this Court of murder, and a jury of your countrymen have prononneed you guilty. Wherefore, the sentence of the Court is, that you be taken hence to the jail in this town of Hilo, and be there kept in close confinement until a fitting opportunity shall occur to transfer you to the prison on the Island of Oabn and that you then be transferred to the said prison on the said. Island of Oako, and there be kept in close confinement until the second Friday in the month of March next ensuing, and that on that day between the hours of six o'clock in the morning and twelve o'clock noon, and within the walls of the said prison, you be hung by the neck nutll you are dead, and may God have mercy on your soul. The same was said to Kaapunl.
